At the height of World War II, London parents were advised to evacuate their children to the country where it was supposed to be safer. However, not all children had homes to go to. Most children actually had no idea where they were going or who they were going to live with.

When they arrived in the little country villages, they were taken to the village hall and were lined up. They had to wait until they were chosen by a local family. Not all children were lucky enough to go to kind people and often, siblings were separated.

Write three diary entries of a twelve-year old girl who has been evacuated from London. Your first entry must be written on your first day away from home. The second diary entry will be written at the end of the first week. The final entry is written after a visit from your mother.

Remember to follow a diary format. You should be writing in the first person and using past or present tense. It is important to use appropriate words to describe your emotions.
